The unit of monetary value.

(2) The Sri Lanka rupee shall be divided into one hundred units each of which shall be called a “cent”.

3. (1) The Monetary Board shall by unanimous decision, recommend to the Minister in charge of the subject of Finance that the par value of the Sri Lanka rupee be determined in terms of special drawing rights or in terms of such other common denominator as may be prescribed by the International Monetary Fund, and upon such recommendation, the Minister in charge of the subject of Finance shall, by Order published in the Gazette, determine and declare the par value of the Sri Lanka rupee in accordance with the terms specified in such recommendation:

The par value of the rupee. (§.8, Law 10 of 1978)

Provided, however, that if the Monetary Board is of the view that international economic conditions do not warrant the introduction or maintenance of exchange arrangements based on stable but adjustable par values, it may, by unanimous decision, recommend to the Minister in charge of the subject of Finance that no determination be made under the preceding provisions of this section or that any Order made under this section be revoked, and upon any such recommendation, the Minister in charge of the subject of Finance shall desist from making an Order under this section, or, as the case may be, revoke an Order made under this section.

(2) The Monetary Board may by unanimous decision recommend to the Minister in charge of the subject of Finance the alteration of the par value of the Sri Lanka rupee, if the Board is of the opinion that such alteration of the par value of the Sri Lanka rupee is rendered necessary in any of the following circumstances, that is to say—

- (a) if the continuance of the existing par value hinders or is likely to hinder unduly, the achievement and maintenance of a high level of production, employment and real income and the full development of the productive resources of Sri Lanka, or results, or is likely to result, in a serious decline in the International Reserve of the Central Bank or in other utilizable external assets of Sri Lanka or if such decline cannot be prevented except by—
 - (i) a large scale increase in the external liabilities of Sri Lanka;
 - (ii) the persistent use of restrictions on the convertibility of the rupee into foreign currencies in settlement of current transactions; or
 - (iii) undue or sustained Government assistance to one or more of the major export industries; or
 - (iv) prolonged use of measures designed to restrict the volume of imports of essential commodities; or
- (b) if the maintenance of the existing par value is producing, or is likely to produce, a persisting surplus in the balance of payments on current account and a monetary disequilibrium which cannot be adequately corrected by other Government or by Central Bank action authorised by this Act; or
- (c) if uniform proportionate changes in the par values of currencies of its members are made by the International Monetary Fund, and upon such recommendation, the Minister in charge of the subject of Finance may, by Order published in the Gazette, amend, in accordance with the terms specified in such recommendation, any Order made under subsection (1).

(3) Any Order made under subsection (1) or subsection (2) shall cease to have effect after a period of ten days from the date of publication thereof, unless such Order is approved by Parliament within that period:

Provided however, that if Parliament is not in session on the date of publication of the Order, the Order shall cease to have effect after a period of ten days from the date of the next meeting of Parliament, unless such Order is approved by Parliament within that period.

CHAPTER IV

THE CENTRAL BANK AND NATIONAL MONETARY POLICY

(1) The Monetary Board shall endeavour so to regulate the supply, availability, and cost of money as to secure, so far as possible by action authorised by this Act, the objects mentioned in section 5; and shall for such purpose have regard to the monetary needs of particular sectors of the economy as well as of the economy as a whole.

(2) In determining its domestic monetary policies the Monetary Board shall especially consider their effects on Sri Lanka’s international financial position as evidenced by the relation of domestic to world prices and costs, by the level and composition of exports and imports, by the international balance of payments, and, ultimately, by the ability of the Central Bank to maintain the international stability of the Sri Lanka rupee and its free convertibility for current international transactions.

64. (1) Whenever the Monetary Board anticipates economic disturbances that are likely to threaten domestic monetary stability in Sri Lanka or whenever abnormal movements in the money supply or in the price level are actually endangering such stability, it shall be the duty of the board—

domestic monetary stability

- (a) to adopt such policies, and to cause such remedial measures to be taken, as are appropriate in the circumstances and authorised by this Act;
- (b) to submit to the Minister in charge of the subject of Finance and, if not prejudicial to the public interest, make public, a detailed report which shall include, as a minimum, an analysis of—
 - (i) the causes of the anticipated economic disturbances, or of the actual abnormal movements of the money supply or the price level;

(ii) the probable effects of such disturbances or movements on the level of production, employment, and real income in Sri Lanka; and

(3) The Monetary Board shall continue to submit further reports periodically so long as the circumstances which occasioned the submission of the first report constitute a threat to domestic monetary stability.

PART II - INTERNATIONAL MONETARY STABILIZATION

Principles governing determination of international monetary policy. [§.8, Law 10 of 1978]

65. In determining its international monetary policy the Monetary Board shall endeavour to maintain the par value of the Sri Lanka rupee, or where no determination of such par value has been made under section 3, maintain such exchange arrangements as are consistent with the underlying trends in the country and so relate its exchange with other currencies as to assure its free use for current international transactions.

International Reserve.

66. (1) In order to maintain the international stability of the Sri Lanka rupee and to assure the greatest possible freedom of its current international transactions, the Monetary Board shall endeavour to maintain among the assets of the Central Bank an international reserve adequate to meet any foreseeable deficits in the international balance of payments.

[§.8, Law 10 of 1978]

(2) In judging the adequacy of the International Reserve, the Monetary Board shall be guided by the estimates of prospective receipts and payments of foreign exchange by Sri Lanka; by the volume and maturity of the Central Bank's own liabilities in foreign currencies; and, in so far as they are known or can be estimated, by the volume and maturity of the foreign exchange assets and liabilities of the Government and of banking institutions and other persons in Sri Lanka. So long as any part of the foreign currency assets of Sri Lanka are held in currencies which are not freely convertible by the Central Bank, whether directly or indirectly, into special drawing rights or such other common denominator prescribed by the International Monetary Fund or into foreign currencies freely usable in international transactions, or are frozen, the Monetary Board shall also take this factor into account in judging the adequacy of the International Reserve of the Central Bank.

67. (1) The International Reserve of the Central Bank may include the following assets :-

Composition of International

[§.7,2 of 1969]

[§.8, Law 10 of 1978]

(2) The Monetary Board shall endeavour to hold at least a nuclear reserve in gold or currencies freely convertible by the Central Bank, whether directly or indirectly, into gold. The board shall particularly consider the prospects of stability and convertibility of all of the currencies in the International Reserve as well as the anticipated demand for such currencies.

68. (1) Whenever the Monetary Board anticipates that there may develop a deficit in the international balance of payments of such magnitude as to cause a serious decline in the International Reserve, or whenever there is an imminent threat of a serious decline in the International Reserve, or whenever the International Reserve actually falls to a level which the board considers to be a threat to the international stability of the Sri Lanka rupee, or whenever international payments or remittances are being made which in the opinion of the board constitute an actual or a potential threat to such stability or are prejudicial to the national welfare, it shall be the duty of the board-

international stability of the rupee.

(a) to adopt such policies, and to cause such remedial measures to be taken, as are appropriate to the circumstances and authorised by this Act, and

(b) to submit to the Minister in charge of the subject of Finance a detailed report which shall include, as a minimum, an analysis of—

- (i) the nature, causes, and magnitude of the actual or potential threat to the international stability of the Sri Lanka rupee; and
- (ii) the measures which the board has already taken, and the further monetary, fiscal or administrative measures which it proposes to take or recommends for adoption by the Government.

In any other case, or if the par value of the currency of a member country has not been agreed with the fund, the parity of such currency with respect to the

[§.8, Law 10 of 1978]

(b) The currency of a country which is not a member of the International Monetary Fund shall have its parity with the rupee calculated on the basis of the exchange rates for the currency in international markets; and if there is divergence among the rates quoted in international markets the Governor may determine which rates shall be used for the determination of the parity.
