Don't Let Scammers Harvest Your Life Savings

Plantation scams rely on promises that cannot be delivered

ASK BEFORE YOU INVEST

- Are very high returns promised?
- Are returns promised in a very short time?
- Are you told that the returns come even if the crops fail?
- Is the operator difficult to trace?

If the answer is "YES", it may be a plantation scam

VERIFY BEFORE YOU PAY

- Obtaining a registration from Registrar of Companies / Pawnbrokers Ordinance etc. is not a license provided to take deposits
- Question high return – Don't let anyone pressure you into paying quickly
- Check legal ownership of the land
- Consult relevant authorities before investing
