Publication of the Macroprudential Policy Framework

As per the section 63(2) of the Central Bank of Sri Lanka Act, the Central Bank has published the Macroprudential Policy Framework. This publication aims to create awareness among relevant stakeholders about the macroprudential policy making process as well as the role of macroprudential policy in the financial system.

This document explains the objectives and purpose of macroprudential policies; systemic risk surveillance and indicators; macroprudential tools; interactions with other policies of the Central Bank; institutional set-up; and communication of macroprudential stance/systemic risk developments by the Central Bank. This publication will be a useful and reliable source of reference for those who are interested in the macroprudential approach of the Central Bank as the macroprudential authority of Sri Lanka.

The current version of the Macroprudential Policy Framework is available in electronic form and can be accessed through the Central Bank website:
