

CENTRAL BANK OF SRI LANKA

13th Annual International Research Conference

CALL FOR PAPERS

The Central Bank of Sri Lanka is organising its thirteenth International Research Conference to be held in Colombo, Sri Lanka on 11 December 2020.

This Conference seeks to stimulate innovative theoretical and empirical research on contemporary macroeconomic policy issues. The Conference will provide a platform for researchers from policy making and academic institutions to come together and share their experiences and views from varied perspectives.

Researchers are invited to submit original papers covering any of the following areas:

- Macroeconomic policies for sustainable development
- Economic growth and development
- Monetary theory and policy
- Exchange rate dynamics
- Macroeconomic modelling
- Fiscal policy and public debt dynamics
- International trade and international finance
- Financial sector issues
- Macro-prudential policies and regulations
- Commodity market dynamics
- Economic impact of COVID-19

SUBMISSION OF ABSTRACTS AND PAPERS

- Interested researchers should submit an extended abstract (about 1000 words) along with a Curriculum Vitae to the Coordinators of the International Research Conference via email to irc@cbsl.lk (with a copy to directorerd@cbsl.lk).
- If researchers represent any institution, the completed papers should be authenticated by the relevant authority.
- Presented papers at the Conference would be published online.

EXPENSES

There is no registration fee. The authors (one presenter in the case of joint authors) of selected papers will be granted a travel and accommodation package to attend the Conference. However, this package will not be available should the Central Bank of Sri Lanka decide to hold the Conference through a web-based format.
