PRESS RELEASES

December 2010

1. External Sector Performance – September 2010

Earnings from exports rose to US dollars 663 million in September 2010, reflecting a year-on-year growth of 16.7 per cent, due to increased earnings from agricultural and industrial exports. Expenditure on imports increased by 35.9 per cent to US dollars 1,092 million in September 2010, reflecting increases in all major categories of imports. The cumulative earnings from exports and expenditure on imports during the first nine months of 2010 increased by 11.4 per cent and 36.5 per cent, respectively. The trade deficit expanded to US dollars 4,039 million during this period.

The largest contribution to the increase in export earnings came from the industrial exports, mainly due to higher exports of garments and textiles, rubber products and food, beverages and tobacco. Earnings from exports of textiles and garments recorded higher earnings despite the withdrawal of GSP+ concession with effect from August 15, 2010. While earnings from garment exports to the EU increased by 1.5 per cent, garment exports to the USA grew by 13.4 per cent. Earnings from agricultural exports also increased recording a healthy growth in all key sub-categories due to increases in both, volumes and prices. The average export price of tea continued to remain high at US dollars 4.31 per kg, while rubber prices rose by 62.9 per cent to US dollars 3.08 per kg. Earnings from minor agricultural exports grew by 48.7 per cent mainly due to the significant increases recorded in the export volumes of sesame seeds, pepper, cinnamon, arecanuts and fruits and the higher prices fetched by essential oils, vegetables, unmanufactured tobacco, and cinnamon.

All major categories of imports increased in September 2010. Expenditure on intermediate goods imports increased led by petroleum imports. Expenditure on imports of consumer goods increased significantly during the month of September 2010, mainly due to higher imports of non-food consumer goods, of which nearly 54.0 per cent comprised of motor vehicles. Food imports also increased due to higher expenditure incurred on import of sugar and milk products. Expenditure on sugar imports increased by 72.2 per cent to US dollars 39.0 million, mainly due to a surge in sugar prices in the international market. Expenditure on all investment goods also increased significantly in September 2010.

During the first nine months of 2010, workers' remittances increased by 13.4 per cent to US dollars 2,814.5 million over that of the corresponding period of 2009. The gross official reserves continued to remain significantly above the targeted level and stood at US dollars 6.7 billion by end October 2010 without Asian Clearing Union (ACU) funds. Based on the previous 12 month, average expenditure on imports of US dollars 1,070 million per month, the gross official reserves, without ACU funds, were equivalent to 6.3 months of imports.

The performance of external trade during the period is further illustrated in the following table.

2. Inflation increases in November 2010

Inflation, as measured by the Colombo Consumers' Price Index (CCPI) (2002=100), computed by the Department of Census and Statistics, increased to 7.0 per cent in November 2010, on a year-on-year basis, from 6.6 per cent in October. Meanwhile, the annual average inflation increased to 5.8 per cent in November from 5.4 per cent in the previous month, as a result of the price developments in the preceding twelve month period.

The core inflation, which measures the price movement of non-food and non-energy items of the CCPI basket, remained at 5.6 per cent on a year-on-year basis, in November 2010 as in the previous month. On an annual average basis core inflation increased marginally to 6.4 per cent in November 2010 from 6.3 per cent in October 2010.

The contribution to the monthly increase of 1.1 per cent in the Index originated mainly from price increases in the sub category of Food and non-alcoholic beverages (2.1 per cent). Within the Food sub category price increases were registered for rice, vegetables, coconut, coconut oil, big onions, red onions, potatoes, and fish and sea food. Meanwhile, prices of fresh fruit, eggs and chicken declined. Price increases were recorded in the sub categories of Clothing and footwear (1.7 per cent); Furnishing, household equipment and routine household maintenance (0.2 per cent); Health (0.2 per cent); Education (0.1 per cent); and Miscellaneous goods and services (0.1 per cent). A marginal increase was also observed in the sub category of Housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuels. Prices in the sub categories of Recreation and culture; Transport; and Communication remained unchanged during the month.

4. Monetary Policy Review – December 2010

Driven mainly by supply side constraints in respect of several commodities, year-on-year inflation increased to 7 per cent by end November 2010. Food and non-alcoholic beverages accounted for over seventy per cent of this increase. Nevertheless, inflation, on an annual average basis, has remained around mid-single-digit levels in both 2009 and 2010.

The recent monetary easing by the Central Bank has helped improve domestic credit conditions, and thereby supported the sustained recovery in domestic economic activity. The external sector too has recorded encouraging performance in recent months. While domestic economic activity has rebounded strongly this year, it is expected that this growth momentum would continue into the next year too, supported by the recovery in the global economy.

Growth in broad money has remained within targeted levels, thus far, despite the pick-up in credit granted to the private sector in recent months, due to a decline in both net foreign assets of the banking system as well as credit obtained by the government from the banking system. While it is expected that credit flows to the economy would move in tandem with the level of economic activity, the Bank will take appropriate policy measures if it observes any signs of a build up of demand pressures in the economy.

Taking into consideration the recent economic developments as well as expected economic developments, the Monetary Board, at its meeting held on 13 December 2010, decided to maintain the policy interest rates of the Central Bank unchanged at their current levels. Accordingly, the Repurchase rate and the Reverse Repurchase rate of the Central Bank would remain at 7.25 per cent and 9.00 per cent, respectively.

The release of the next regular statement on monetary policy will be on 11 January 2011.

5. External Sector Performance – October 2010

Earnings from exports increased by 27.6 per cent, year-on-year, to US dollars 802 million in October 2010. This is the third highest monthly export value ever recorded. Higher export earnings from the textile and garments and minor agricultural crops helped this increase.

Cumulative earnings from exports during the first ten months of 2010 increased by 13.2 per cent, year-on-year, to US dollars 6,505 million. Expenditure on imports increased by 8.4 per cent to US dollars 1,131 million in October, 2010 mainly due to substantial increases in imports of non food consumer goods. Cumulative expenditure on imports during the first ten months of 2010 increased by 32.8 per cent, year-on-year, to US dollars 10,863 million. As a result, the trade deficit expanded to US dollars 4,357 million during this period compared to US dollars 2,431 million in the corresponding period of 2009.

3.81 per kg, respectively, in October 2010. Earnings from minor agricultural exports increased by 35.9 per cent to US dollars 34 million in October, 2010 led by higher earnings from cinnamon and pepper.

Expenditure on imports of consumer goods rose in October, 2010 due to higher imports of non-food consumer goods, led by motor vehicles. Expenditure on food imports also increased mainly due to higher prices of sugar imports and increased import volumes of milk products. However, expenditure on wheat and rice imports declined, in terms of both prices and volumes, compared to October 2009. Expenditure on imports

The largest contribution to the growth in exports in October, 2010 was from the industrial sector, led by significant increases in earnings from textile and garments, rubber products and machinery and equipment. Earnings from garment exports to the EU and USA increased by 27.4 per cent and 33.1 per cent, respectively, in October 2010. Although, earning from diamonds and jewellery exports declined by 10.0 per cent, growth in earning from all other sub categories of industrial exports exceeded 26 per cent in October, 2010. Earnings from agricultural exports, which have taken on an increasing trend since April 2010, improved further in October, 2010 mainly reflecting higher prices. The average export prices of tea and rubber continued to remain high at US dollars 4.43 per kg and US dollars of intermediate goods decreased as the expenditure on both, petroleum and fertilizer imports, declined by more than 50 per cent due to lower volumes of imports. The average import price of crude oil increased by 11.3 per cent to US dollars 80.99 per barrel in October 2010, from US dollars 72.80 per barrel in October 2009. Textile and clothing imports, grew by 50.9 per cent, year-on-year, reflecting higher potential earnings from exports of apparel products in the coming months. All sub categories of investment goods imports, except transport equipment, increased in October, 2010.

During the first ten months of 2010, workers' remittances increased by 21.9 per cent to US dollars 3,380 million (after adjusting for revisions by commercial banks) over that of the corresponding period of 2009. The gross official reserves continued to remain significantly above the targeted level and stood at US dollars 6.6 billion by end November, 2010 without Asian Clearing Union (ACU) funds. Based on the previous 12 months average expenditure on imports of US dollars 1,084 million per month, the gross official reserves, without ACU funds, were equivalent to 6.1 months of imports.

The performance of external trade during the period is further illustrated in the following table.

6. Inflation in 2010 remains at a Mid-Single Digit Level

The annual average rate of inflation, as measured by the Colombo Consumers' Price Index (CCPI) (2002=100), computed by the Department of Census and Statistics, was 5.9 per cent in 2010. It is noteworthy that this is the second lowest annual average (end year) inflation rate observed since 1999. The year-on-year inflation stood at 6.9 per cent in December 2010.

Favourable domestic supply conditions due to improvements in the agriculture sector as well as increase in supply of food commodities, mainly from the North and East helped contain price pressure to a certain extent, although seasonal increases of prices of some commodities were experienced during some months of the year. In the international market, commodity prices increased with the recovery in the global economy. However, the impact of these price changes on the domestic inflation was arrested by import duty revisions. Further, the unchanged prices for petrol and diesel during the year helped contain inflation. Prudent monetary policy also supported preventing inflation from rising.

Price Movements in 2010

The contribution to the annual average change of 5.9 per cent in the index arose mainly from sub category of Food and non-alcoholic beverages which increased by 6.8 per cent. All other sub categories of Clothing and footwear; Housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuels; Furnishing, household equipment and routine household maintenance; Health; Transport; Communication; Recreation and culture; Education; and Miscellaneous goods and services also caused upward pressure on the index. However, pressure from Transport sub category was very marginal in 2010, since prices of petrol and diesel and public transport charges remained unchanged during the entire year.

Paddy production in 2010 improved when compared to that of the previous year and the average price of rice recorded a drop in 2010 compared to 2009. To check the rising rice prices during the closing months of the year, the government re-imposed the price ceiling w.e.f. 10.12.2010 which was removed w.e.f. 26.10.2010, and started releasing paddy stocks to millers and distributing rice through Co-operatives and Sathosa outlets at a lower price.

The prices of vegetables were generally higher compared to the previous year, though seasonal decreases were reported during the course of the year. The average price of coconut and coconut oil increased sharply by 28.9 per cent and 24.0 per cent, respectively in 2010 compared to 2009, owing to the sharp drop in coconut production and this contributed substantially to inflation.

The average prices of fish and sea food increased by around 10.2 per cent in spite of the improved fish production during 2010. Adverse weather conditions contributed to price increases during the middle of the year. However, fish prices decreased towards end of 2010.

There was an increase of around 3.4 per cent in the Housing, water, electricity, gas and other fuel sub index, recorded in 2010 compared to the last year. This was mainly due to the net impact of revision of LP gas prices affected during the period.

Although the import prices of crude oil increased by over 25 per cent during the year compared to 2009, domestic prices were not adjusted. Stable fuel prices had a favourable direct and indirect impact on domestic prices.

Unlike in 2009, prices in the import category in the CCPI basket contributed to inflationary pressure in 2010. Import duties were adjusted on imported items from time to time to reduce the impact of high import prices on domestic inflation. The contribution of imported items to annual average inflation, increased from negative 10.0 per cent in 2009 to 14.8 per cent in 2010, while the contribution of domestic items decreased from 110.0 per cent in 2009 to 85.2 per cent in 2010. Accordingly, the average domestic prices of wheat flour and milk powder decreased while the price of sugar increased, compared to 2009.

The impact of high import prices on consumer prices was somewhat mitigated by the slight appreciation in the exchange rate. The Sri Lankan rupee appreciated by about 1.7 per cent against the US dollar on average in 2010.

The annual average core inflation, which is derived by excluding food and energy items from the CCPI basket, declined to 6.3 per cent in 2010 from 9.2 per cent in 2009. The year-on-year core inflation also followed a declining trend reaching 5.6 per cent at the end of 2010 compared to 5.9 per cent at the end of 2009.

STATISTICAL APPENDIX

Definitions and Explanatory Notes

The following general notes supplement the footnotes given below the individual tables:—

1. The data cover monthly figures available at the time the Bulletin goes to print, and the latest available information does not relate to the same month, in every table.

To enable comparison, annual figures for recent years are given.

2. In an attempt to bring the material up-to-date provisional figures are included in some tables.
3. Figures in some tables have been rounded off to the nearest final digit. Hence there may be a slight discrepancy between the total as shown and the sum of its components.
4. Differences as compared with previously published figures are due to subsequent revisions.
5. The following symbols have been used throughout:—
 - n.a. = not available
 - = nil
 - ... = negligible

Source: Central Bank of Sri Lanka

(b) Wages in the construction sector are paid on both daily payment and contractual basis. The series on contractual basis in previous bulletin publications has been replaced by the series on daily payment basis from the monthly bulletin of December 2005 onwards for comparison with wages in other sectors.

(c) Daily wages up to December 2004 are the average of daily wages for the two activities. From January 2005 onwards the daily wages cover both activities under a single category following the restructuring of data collection schedules.

(a) A series with a wide coverage and 1997 as the base year. In order to accommodate the variability arising from a monthly frequency, in computing the monthly trade indices, first the volume index is computed as a Laspeyres index and then the unit value index is derived as the ratio between the value index and the volume index. This methodology avoids the subjective imputation of prices that would be required in deriving a price index first when certain items are not exported or imported in a particular month.

(a) A series with a wide coverage and 1997 as the base year. In order to accommodate the variability arising from a monthly frequency, in computing the monthly trade indices, first the volume index is computed as a Laspeyres index and then the unit value index is derived as the ratio between the value index and the volume index. This methodology avoids the subjective imputation of prices that would be required in deriving a price index first when certain items are not exported or imported in a particular month.

(a) A series with a wide coverage and 1997 as the base year. In order to accommodate the variability arising from a monthly frequency, in computing the monthly trade indices, first the volume index is computed as a Laspeyres index and then the unit value index is derived as the ratio between the value index and the volume index. This methodology avoids the subjective imputation of prices that would be required in deriving a price index first when certain items are not exported or imported in a particular month.

In addition, beginning 1994, Offshore Banking Units have been treated as a part of the domestic banking system.

(b) Provisional

(c) Exports are recorded on f.o.b. valuation; imports on c.i.f. valuation.

(d) Includes port related services.

(e) Passage collections by foreign shipping agents and airlines are included in passenger fares.

(f) Indicates outright grants received in the form of programme, food and commodity aid, cash and technical assistance.

(g) Indicates outright grants received in the form of project aid.

(h) Credit entries refer mainly to an increase in liabilities resulting from imports under trade credits. The debit entries in respect of such imports are in the merchandise account and are recorded on an arrivals basis. Debit entries refer to a decline in such liabilities and are recorded at the time of settlement of payment for such imports.

(i) The change in capital of the monetary sector is based on local records.

(j) The figures shown in the credit column relate to the increase in liabilities to the IMF arising from drawings from the IMF and the receipts under the Stand-by Arrangement facility in 2009. US dollar and Sri Lanka Rupee values reflect changes in the representative rate of the Special Drawing Rights (SDRs). Figures in the debit column are in respect of repurchases or repayments, made in installments to the IMF, in respect of earlier drawings. Subscriptions to the IMF, consequent to successive increases in Sri Lanka's quota, are also shown in the debit column.

(k) General and special allocations of SDRs by the IMF.

(b) The NEER is the weighted average of nominal exchange rates of the 24 trading partner and competitor countries. Weights are based on the trade shares reflecting the relative importance of each currency in the currency basket.

(c) The REER is computed by adjusting the NEER for inflation differentials with the countries whose currencies are included in the basket.

(d) REER computation is based on CCPI.

(e) The REER Indices for 2009 and 2010 are provisional.

(a) Annualised Forward Premium (f^a) is computed using the following formula.

Source: Central Bank of Sri Lanka

$$f^a = \{[F_t^{t+1} - S_t] / S_t\} * 100 * (12/t)$$

Where F_t^{t+1} is the forward rate for period $t+1$ that exists in period t and S_t is the interbank spot rate at period t .

(a) This monetary survey is based on the aggregated data pertaining to both Domestic Banking Units (DBUs) and Offshore Banking Units (OBUs) of banks operating in Sri Lanka. Definitional changes have been adopted in aggregating DBUs and OBUs data to avoid double counting and misclassification of assets and liabilities.

The major changes are:

- (1) All DBU placements in OBUs are recorded as domestic assets, while all DBU borrowings from OBUs are recorded as domestic liabilities.
- (2) Foreign currency deposits of DBUs are classified on the basis of ownership rather than on the basis of currency. Hence, the following apply :
 - (i) One half (50 per cent) of NRFC deposits are treated as domestic deposit liabilities;
 - (ii) All RNNFC balances are treated as foreign liabilities;
 - (iii) All other domestic foreign currency accounts are treated as domestic deposit liabilities.

(b) Includes assets / liabilities of National Development Bank which merged with NDB Bank Ltd., with effect from August 2005.

(c) External assets (net) of the Central Bank and commercial banks (including outward bills).

(d) Currency and demand deposits of the public.

(e) Time and savings deposits of the public held with commercial banks.

(a) This financial survey is based on the aggregate data pertaining to Domestic Banking Units (DBUs), Offshore Banking Units (OBUs), Licensed Specialised Banks (LSBs) and Registered Finance Companies (RFCs) operating in Sri Lanka. Definitional changes have been adopted in aggregating DBUs, OBUs, LSBs and RFCs data to avoid double counting and misclassification of assets and liabilities. The major changes are:

- (1) All DBUs placements in OBUs are recorded as domestic assets, while all DBUs borrowings from OBUs are recorded as domestic liabilities.
- (2) Foreign currency deposits of DBUs are classified on the basis of ownership rather than on the basis of currency. Hence, the following apply:
 - (i) One half (50 per cent) of NRFC deposits are treated as domestic deposit liabilities;
 - (ii) All RNNFC balances are treated as foreign liabilities;
 - (iii) All other domestic foreign currency accounts are treated as domestic deposit liabilities.

(b) External assets (net) of the Central Bank, Commercial banks (including outward bills), LSBs and RFCs.

(c) Currency, demand deposits and quasi money in DBUs in this table differ from those in table 52 due to the fact that LSBs and RFCs are not treated as public under this broad monetary survey (M₄) definition.

(d) Time and savings deposits of the private sector with commercial banks, LSBs and RFCs.

(e) Credit extended by the monetary authority, DBUs, OBUs, LSBs and RFCs to the Government, net of Government deposits with banks and Government cash deposits.

(a) Under Sections 10c, 93, 94, 96 and 97 of the amended Monetary Law Act (Chapter 422), commercial banks and other financial institutions are required to maintain reserves against their deposit liabilities as prescribed by the Monetary Board. Currently, only commercial banks are subject to reserve requirements. With effect from 24 January 1992, an amount of till cash over and above two per centum of the total deposit liabilities, but not exceeding four per centum, could be maintained as a part of required reserves in the form of Sri Lanka currency notes and coins. Details of required reserve ratios, which were applicable in the past and computational methods have been published in the Appendix table on the 'Reserve Position of Commercial Banks' in the Annual Reports prior to 2003.

(b) Reserve data are for the last reserve week of each month. The required reserves recorded in the table refer to the cumulative reserves for the week, while commercial bank deposits with the Central Bank are the cumulative deposits for that particular reserve week. Excess/Deficit on SRR is the difference between the cumulative SRR for the reserve week and cumulative deposits of the commercial banks for the week.

(c) Excludes interbank deposits.

(d) With effect from 03 April 2003, the basis of computing the Statutory Reserve Requirement (SRR) was changed from deposit liabilities and vault cash balances at the close of business on Wednesday of the previous reserve week, to the average of deposit liabilities and vault cash balances during the week ending Tuesday of the previous reserve week.

Notes :

- (1) Commercial banks charge a variety of fees and commissions on their services. The table gives a range of the maximum and minimum fees and commissions which are based on the information provided by commercial banks. These charges, which do not change very frequently are published semi-annually to enable the public to negotiate best terms. These fees and commissions could be different when services and products are provided as a package.
- (2) These are standard charges of commercial banks. However, charges for some specific products could include charges payable to banks abroad. For example, banks in Sri Lanka may include in their charges fees payable to banks abroad such as for adding confirmation to Letters of Credit, and for correction of discrepancies.
- (3) In the case of Documentary Credits, the charges for outward transmission from Sri Lanka would differ, on the mode of transmission used.
- (4) Loan application processing fees vary according to the loan amount.
