PRESS RELEASES
November 2012

1. External Sector Performance – September 2012

The trade deficit for the first nine months of 2012 declined by 0.3 per cent, year-on-year. This was the first time since December 2009 that the cumulative trade deficit for the year declined.

The multi-pronged policy strategy implemented during the first half of 2012 to curb the widening trade deficit has therefore helped reduce the deficit in the current account. The declining trend in earnings from exports decelerated sharply in September 2012 as tea exports fared well after declining for three consecutive months. Expenditure on imports meanwhile, continued to respond to the tighter policy environment and recorded a sharp decline of 25.4 per cent, year-on-year, in September 2012.

The lower import expenditure during September 2012 reflected developments in respect of both external and domestic economic conditions. While expenditure on imports of most consumer goods declined, import expenditure on non-food consumer items declined responding to the depreciation of the rupee since February this year as well as the tightening of credit conditions over the past several months. Motor vehicle imports being subject to the imposition of higher taxes since March 2012, contributed the most to the decline in expenditure on consumer goods imports.

Expenditure on intermediate goods imports declined in September 2012, driven by non-oil imports. The decline reflected both a weakening of demand for certain industrial exports as well as lower prices. Expenditure on textile imports declined as both global cotton prices and import volumes were lower than in 2011. Lower global demand for jewellery meanwhile, resulted in lower import expenditure on diamonds and gold during September 2012. Expenditure on wheat imports however, increased as world wheat prices have increased due to drought conditions impacting on major wheat producing countries. With respect to imports of petroleum products, despite expenditure on refined petroleum increasing in September, total expenditure on petroleum products declined in September, on a year-on-year basis, as crude oil was not imported during the month of September. Import expenditure on investment goods meanwhile, declined in September 2012 with expenditure on machinery and equipment, building material as well as transport equipment declining.

Despite earnings from agricultural and mineral exports increasing, total earnings from exports declined in September 2012 as earnings from industrial exports, which have the largest share in exports, declined. Within the category of agricultural exports, tea, which account for about 14 per cent of total earnings from merchandise exports, spices including cinnamon and pepper, and several minor agricultural products such as cereals, fetched higher export earnings in September 2012. With respect to earnings from industrial exports, exports of garments, with a share of more than 35 per cent in total export earnings, continued to record lower earnings by September, given the slowing down of global demand and the decline in cotton prices since around March last year. The decline in earnings from exports of gems, diamonds and jewellery also made a significant contribution to the decline in export earnings in September.

With regard to the services account and current transfers in the Balance of Payments (BOP), higher earnings from tourism and workers' remittances continued to buttress the current account of the BOP. With the number of tourists visiting Sri Lanka recording 71,111 in September 2012, thus raising tourist arrivals during the first nine months of 2012 by around 16 per cent, year-on-year, to 693,772, earnings from tourism have continued to increase on a year-on-year basis. Inflows on account of workers' remittances meanwhile, amounted to US dollars 511 million in September, an increase of 27.3 per cent, year-on-year, while during the first nine months of 2012, workers' remittances recorded a growth of 16.8 per cent and amounted to US dollars 4,419 million. A higher growth is expected in both earnings from tourism and workers' remittances during the last quarter of 2012, as higher inflows are usually recorded towards the end of the year due to seasonality related patterns in such flows.

Foreign currency inflows to the financial market during the first nine months of 2012 have continued to strengthen the capital and financial account of the BOP. At the Colombo Stock Exchange (CSE), net foreign investment inflows have been recorded for each month so far in 2012. There has also been a significant increase in foreign investments in government securities during the first nine months of 2012 and net investments in Treasury bills and Treasury bonds during the first nine months of 2012 amounted to US dollars 820.7 million. Meanwhile, long-term loans obtained by the government during the first nine months of 2012 amounted to US dollars 2,404 million. In addition, long-term borrowings by commercial banks during January–September 2012 amounted to US dollars 927.5 million. Foreign Direct Investment (FDI), including foreign loans obtained by BOI companies, of which data become available only quarterly, amounted to US dollars 452 million for the first half of 2012, and more inflows are expected to materialise during the remainder of the year.

Gross official reserves amounted to US dollars 7,053 million by end September 2012, while total international reserves, which include gross official reserves and foreign assets of commercial banks amounted to US dollars 8,610 million. In terms of months of imports, gross official reserves were equivalent to 4.3 months of imports by end September 2012, while total reserves were equivalent to 5.2 months of imports.

3. Monetary Policy Review – November 2012

Reflecting the effectiveness of the policy measures in place, the growth of broad money and credit extended to the private sector decelerated sharply in the third quarter of the year, while the cumulative trade deficit for the first nine months of 2012 contracted for the first time since December 2009.

In the monetary sector, broad money growth decelerated to 18.9 per cent, year-on-year, in September from a peak growth of 22.9 per cent in April 2012. The growth of credit to the private sector extended by commercial banks decelerated to 25.5 per cent, year-on-year, in September, from over 35 per cent seen prior to March 2012. In the month of September, credit to the private sector expanded by less than Rs. 10 billion compared to the monthly increases of over Rs. 55 billion seen in February and March 2012. Net credit to the government and credit to public corporations also increased modestly in September, but on a cumulative basis credit obtained by the public sector was higher than the projected levels. As such, the Government's commitment to continued fiscal consolidation, as expressed in the 2013 Budget speech, is likely to provide comfort to the conduct of monetary policy in the years ahead.

In the external sector, the contraction of the overall trade deficit over the first nine months of the year by 0.3 per cent to US dollars 6,780 million, was a result of imports declining significantly by 3.3 per cent despite fragile global demand causing a decline in exports by 5.8 per cent during the first nine months of 2012. The decline in the trade deficit together with higher inflows from workers' remittances, tourism, and capital inflows, resulted in a surplus of US dollars 269 million in the balance of payments by end September 2012 while gross official reserves increased to US dollars 7.1 billion, which is equivalent to 4.3 months of imports.

Dampened demand due to sluggish global economic recovery, political sparring over austerity measures in several EU countries, and the absence of proactive leadership amidst economic contraction will continue to affect Euro region's economic stability, slowing the global economy further. With the conclusion of the US presidential elections, it is expected that a joint effort between the USA and the Euro region may aid expediting global economic recovery. In the meantime, central banks in many advanced and emerging economies have eased monetary policy to deal with the turbulent events that may surface due to global developments.

Inflation continued its downward trend in October with the year-on-year change in the Colombo Consumers' Price Index (CCPI) showing a marginal decline to 8.9 per cent from 9.1 per cent in September mainly due to lower food prices. The onset of the intermonsoonal rains is likely to increase the supply of agricultural produce alleviating price pressures further. With water levels in the reservoirs rising, the power generation mix has also become more favourable to the macroeconomy.

Taking into account the developments discussed above, the Monetary Board of the Central Bank of Sri Lanka at its meeting held on 16 November 2012 was of the view that the current monetary policy stance is appropriate. Accordingly, the policy rates of the Central Bank will remain unchanged at their current levels, i.e., the Repurchase rate and the Reverse Repurchase rate would remain at 7.75 per cent and 9.75 per cent, respectively.

The date for the release of the next regular statement on monetary policy will be announced in due course.

4. Inflation increased in November 2012

Inflation, as measured by the Colombo Consumers' Price Index (CCPI) (2006/07=100) computed by the Department of Census and Statistics, increased to 9.5 per cent in November 2012 on a year-on-year (YoY) basis from 8.9 per cent in the previous month mainly due to the increase in food prices. Moreover, the inflation rate on an annual average basis increased to 7.2 per cent in November 2012 from 6.8 per cent in October 2012.

Core inflation increased both on a YoY and annual average basis to 7.2 per cent and 5.6 per cent, respectively, in November 2012 from 6.8 per cent and 5.4 per cent, respectively, in October 2012.

The CCPI increased by 1.3 per cent in November 2012 over the previous month, with the Index increasing in absolute terms to 167.1 from 165.0 in October 2012. The contribution to the monthly increase in the Index came mainly from price increases in the Food category (by 2.4 per cent). The prices of many varieties of vegetables, red onions, big onions, potatoes, coconuts, wheat flour and bread increased during the month. However, a decrease in the prices of eggs and some varieties of fresh fish, dried fish and fruits was reported. Within the Non-Food category, prices increased in the sub-categories of Clothing and Footwear (by 0.4 per cent); Housing, Water, Electricity, Gas and Other Fuels (by 0.4 per cent); Furnishing, Household Equipment and Routine Household Maintenance (by 1.0 per cent); Transport (by 0.2 per cent) and Miscellaneous Goods and Services (by 0.4 per cent). Meanwhile, the prices in the sub-categories of Health; Communication; Recreation and Culture; and Education were unchanged during the month.

STATISTICAL APPENDIX

Definitions and Explanatory Notes

The following general notes supplement the footnotes given below the individual tables:-

1. The data cover monthly figures available at the time the Bulletin goes to print, and the latest available information does not relate to the same month, in every table.

To enable comparision, annual figures for recent years are given.

2. In an attempt to bring the material up-to-date provisional figures are included in some tables.
3. Figures in some tables have been rounded off to the nearest final digit. Hence there may be a slight discrepancy between the total as shown and the sum of its components.
4. Differences as compared with previously published figures are due to subsequent revisions.
5. The following symbols have been used throughout:-

n.a.	=	not available

(a) Daily wages represent payments in cash where meals are not provided by the employer. Annual and quarterly figures are averages of monthly figures.

Source: Central Bank of Sri Lanka

(b) Wages in the construction sector are paid on both daily payment and contractual basis. The series on contractual basis in previous bulletin publications has been replaced by the series on daily payment basis from the monthly bulletin of December 2005 onwards for comparison with wages in other sectors.

(c) Daily wages up to December 2004 are the average of daily wages for the two activities. From January 2005 onwards the daily wages cover both activities under a single category following the restructuring of data collection schedules.

(a) Trade Indices were revised with a wide coverage and 2010 as the base year and calculated in terms of rupees. In order to accommodate the variability arising from a monthly frequency, in computing the monthly trade indices, the first volume index is computed as Laspeyres index and then the unit value index is derived as the ratio between the value index and the volume index. This methodology avoids the subjective imputation of prices that would be required in deriving a price index first when certain items are not exported or imported in a particular month.

(a) Trade Indices were revised with a wide coverage and 2010 as the base year. In order to accommodate the variability arising from a monthly frequency, in computing the monthly trade indices, the first volume index is computed as Laspeyres index and then the unit value index is derived as the ratio between the value index and the volume index. This methodology avoids the subjective imputation of prices that would be required in deriving a price index first when certain items are not exported or imported in a particular month.

(a) Annualised Forward Premium ( $f^d$ ) is computed using the following formula.

Source: Central Bank of Sri Lanka

$$f^d = \{[F_t^{t+1} - S_t] / S_t\} * 100 * (12/t)$$

Where  $F_t^{t+1}$  is the forward rate for period  $t+1$  that exists in period  $t$  and  $S_t$  is the interbank spot rate at period  $t$ .

(a) This monetary survey is based on the aggregated data pertaining to both Domestic Banking Units (DBUs) and Foreign Currency Banking Units (OBUs) of banks operating in Sri Lanka. Definitional changes have been adopted in aggregating DBUs and FCBUs data to avoid double counting and misclassification of assets and liabilities. The major changes are:

- (1) All DBU placements in FCBUs are recorded as domestic assets, while all DBU borrowings from FCBUs are recorded as domestic liabilities.
- (2) Foreign currency deposits of DBUs are classified on the basis of ownership rather than on the basis of currency. Hence, the following apply:
  - (i) One half (50 per cent) of Non-Resident Foreign Currency (NRFC) deposits are treated as domestic deposit liabilities;
  - (ii) All Resident Non-National Foreign Currency (RNFC) balances are treated as foreign liabilities;
  - (iii) All other domestic foreign currency accounts are treated as domestic deposit liabilities.

(b) External assets (net) of the Central Bank and commercial banks (including outward bills)

(c) Currency and demand deposits of the public

(d) Time and savings deposits of the public held with commercial banks

(a) Under Sections 10c, 93, 94, 96 and 97 of the amended Monetary Law Act (Chapter 422), commercial banks and other financial institutions are required to maintain reserves against their deposit liabilities as prescribed by the Monetary Board. Currently, only commercial banks are subject to reserve requirements. With effect from 24 January 1992, an amount of till cash over and above two per centum of the total deposit liabilities, but not exceeding four per cent, could be maintained as a part of required reserves in the form of Sri Lanka currency notes and coins. Details of required reserve ratios, which were applicable in the past and computational methods have been published in the Appendix table on the 'Reserve Position of Commercial Banks' in the Annual Reports prior to 2003.

(b) Reserve data are for the last reserve week of each month. The required reserves recorded in the table refer to the cumulative reserves for the week, while commercial bank's deposits with the Central Bank are the cumulative deposits for that particular reserve week. Excess/Deficit on SRR is the difference between the cumulative SRR for the reserve week and cumulative deposits of the commercial banks' for the week.

(c) Excludes interbank deposits.

(d) With effect from 03 April 2003, the basis of computing the Statutory Reserve Requirement (SRR) was changed from deposit liabilities and till cash balances at the close of business on Wednesday of the previous reserve week, to the average of deposit liabilities and till cash balances during the week ending Tuesday of the previous reserve week.

(e) SRR was increased from 7.00 per cent to 8.00 per cent with effect from 29 April 2011.

- (1) Commercial banks charge a variety of fees and commissions on their services. The table gives a range of the maximum and minimum fees and commissions which are based on the information provided by commercial banks. These charges, which do not change very frequently are published semi-annually to enable the public to negotiate best terms. These fees and commissions could be different when services and products are provided as a package.
- (2) These are standard charges of commercial banks. However, charges for some specific products could include charges payable to banks abroad. For example, banks in Sri Lanka may include in their charges fees payable to banks abroad such as for adding confirmation to Letters of Credit, and for correction of discrepancies.
- (3) In the case of Documentary Credits, the charges for outward transmission from Sri Lanka would differ, on the mode of transmission used.
- (4) Loan application processing fees vary according to the loan amount.
