Weekly Economic Indicators

11th May 2018

Highlights of the Week

Real Sector

During the period, crude oil prices largely followed an increasing trend. Although the prices marginally fell at the beginning of the week, prices rose subsequently to highest levels since end November 2014, after the US President pulled his country out of the nuclear deal with Iran, sparking worries about global oil supplies. Price increases were further supported by a larger-than-expected drawdown in US oil inventories. However, towards the end of the week prices marginally fell after US crude oil production hit another record high level of 10.7 million barrels per day (bpd). Overall, Brent and WTI prices rose by US$ 1.2 per barrel and US$ 0.6 per barrel, respectively, within the period.

During the first quarter of 2018, the domestic tea production increased due to the favourable weather conditions and high prices at the Colombo Tea Auction and production of rubber declined due to the decreased auction prices. Meanwhile, the coconut production declined considerably during the period, due to lagged effects of the drought that prevailed since 2016.

The IIP in March 2018 has increased by 0.1 per cent in comparison with the corresponding month of 2017. Among the major sub divisions of the manufacturing industries; volume of products of 'Beverages' (16.6%); 'Chemical & chemical products'; (8.1%), 'Wearing Apparels' (7.6%); 'Rubber and plastic products' (4.7%); and 'Food products' (3.2%) have contributed to the overall increase in production during the month of March, 2018 compared to that of March, 2017 and 'Coke and refined petroleum products' decreased by 61.4% during this period.

⁽a) Please note that crude oil prices are based on futures prices instead of spot prices, that have been published up to end 2017.

^(*) CPC import prices are not directly comparable with futures prices of WTI and Brent as CPC's import prices include freight charges and the price is weighted for average prices of different types of crude oil. Also part of the imports of CPC are on a term contract basis.
